

HOLLY ELISE HUBER

Human Performance Innovator

My career has been made working in neurotherapy, but at its heart, my work has always been about supporting people at the highest level possible. Over the past decade, I've utilized the best technology and healing for my clients, as well as managed complex schedules, supported leadership, run daily operations, and made sure clients and clinicians felt cared for in neuroscience and wellness settings. My clientele has ranged from people who cannot get out of bed by themselves, to shamans, to A-listers, to executives. In every circumstance, showing up, listening, and balancing the detailed technical tasks was essential in building true human to human connection and care. I'm ready and excited to bring these skills into a wider spectrum of clientele.

- Design websites, pitch decks, and written materials that embody both science and spirit.
- Provide one-on-one coaching, blending neuro insights with intuitive guidance to help clients step into new chapters of life.
- Impact: built bridges between the scientific and the spiritual, giving leaders tools to deepen their offerings.

Past

Abbey Neuropsychology Clinic

Remote Neurofeedback Technician

May 2021 - August 2023

- Coordinated scheduling for up to 12 clients across multiple time zones, using Monday.com for smooth workflows.
- Trained clients remotely in EEG neurofeedback, biofeedback, and cognitive skill programs.
- Designed a breathing program that became standard across the clinic.
- Impact: balanced technical expertise with compassionate presence, helping clients navigate depression, trauma, and autism with support and dignity.

40 Years of Zen

NeuroTech, HRV & Breath Facilitator

October 2016 - March 2017

- Supported elite peak-performance clients in luxury, high-pressure retreats.
- Delivered individualized breathwork and neurotech sessions that exceeded program standards.
- Integrated HRV, neurostimulation, and heart-centered practices to help clients reach deeper levels of awareness.
- Impact: went beyond neurotech & created moments of profound care that helped clients anchor breakthroughs into lasting personal transformation.

Neurotherapy Center of Nebraska

Neurotherapy Technician

October 2016 - March 2017

- Conducted thousands of neurotherapy sessions, building a foundation of expertise and client trust.
- Introduced HeartMath and breath-based practices, enriching the clinic's approach.
- Learned the heart of client care: showing up consistently, with presence and patience, for vulnerable populations.
- Impact: discovered that technical precision becomes meaningful only when paired with genuine compassion.
